Hi Adam et al

I copy in Brad and Alec with regards to the billing run, I personally have received NO clarification of a new bank and clearly cannot override this process without Alec and Brads input.

My assumption has been that Alec (for example) whilst on holiday is available via email and in fact has liaised with numerous colleagues over this time.

I will gladly (obviously) write an email accordingly vis a vis new bank details but without those I cant once received will write and seek AB/BA edit/comments as historically they manage those client relationships.

Aubrey / Ryan,

We also need to send an email to all clients to update them of the bank change and plus will need to update the invoices for the billing run with the new details on the invoices.

Also need duplicate invoices with the new details going out to all debtors as per the latest updated debtors list that Ryan has as of 3 days ago.

Aubrey – could you draft a short email accordingly? And provide the billing run details please?

Ryan – could you please update the invoice details for the billing run Aubrey provides, and ensure the invoices for all the debtors as per latest list also are updated and sent out with billing run asap.?

Aubrey – please also make sure all staff are aware of banking updates so can handle / direct any queries that come in.

I will forward the bank details in a separate email shortly.

Hi Ryan

Well we don't have a bank account to replace MetroBank so thus far largely irrelevant no?

Hi Aubrey,

I hope you are well.

In Alec's absence has there been someone else instructed to prepare the billing run for September?
