Subject: RAN-JET ACQUISITION > Your Role, My Role

All,

RAN-JET UPDATE & ROLES

As you know "RANsquawk" and "Talking-Forex" (TFX) have been acquired under mutual agreement by The Jet Group (JET), from Realtime Analysis and News Limited (RAN) and TTN Ltd (the previous owners) - with effect from the 1st September 2016. Apologies that I am not in the office with you at this time but I am afraid that I have had some health issues.

I want to reassure you all that this acquisition will essentially make no difference to your roles or day to day activities as the businesses will simply continue "AS IS" under the new owner.

Whilst I understand JET is considering various options for the future - including a possible rebranding exercise - for now it has simply acquired RANsquawk and the Talking-Forex business lines you work for and these brands will remain exactly as before.

THIS IS A VERY POSITIVE THING FOR RAN, JET, RANsquawk & TFX....and YOU

Under JET, these businesses are freed from the damage of historic litigation resultant from actions of the previous executive management at RAN – which had seen RAN in the firing line of litigation so many times.

It means the businesses are now mitigated from such litigation risk, and moreover, can approach the Newswires, suppliers and customers that refused to work with RAN Ltd.

This should open a whole new world of opportunity – enabling you to provide an even better, more comprehensive and premium service - to more people – whilst developing an enhanced reputation for integrity and excellence.

Already, this very last week we have received a significant feedback on how the quality of the Squawk and desk has started to become the very best it has been for some time - returning to the premium quality it is known for.

So my congratulations and huge thanks to you all for your efforts and hard work that has enabled this during challenging times.

I firmly believe the business is now more secure and stronger than it may have ever been - no longer limited by the risks, reputation and embezzlements of the past.

MY ROLE & OTHER DIRECTORS / CONSULTANTS

Today I am a director at RAN Ltd and so, subject to my health improving, I will remain at RAN to try to help lead a revised strategy at the company – providing similar services and products to traders and finance professionals going forward - but also legitimately and without risk of litigation for the company or its officers or members - by delivering these through new channels - including a new web portal. The strategy is currently under development with the current executive team.

HOWEVER, this same executive team will also be significantly involved for a period of 3 months in supporting JET - and the migration - while it takes the reigns of RANsquawk & TFX.

Beyond that period, some of us may choose to stay at RAN or join JET or leave both entities altogether - it has been left entirely at each executive's discretion and want as at that time.

But needless to say, you can rest assured of two things - that there will be a strong executive team in place at RANsquawk under JET, and that ultimately it needs all of you to help take the company forward and to take advantage of the huge opportunities that now lie ahead.

Please if you have any queries at all - call me on 07740 157204 or send me an email.

Best of luck to all of you / us in what are now less “challenging” and more “exciting” times. More to follow....

Thank you again.

Kind Regards,

George
